CMather and Bendigo Web Hosting Named One Of Australia's Most Popular Web Hosting Services

Local Bendigo Internet Company offers full-service Web support for small businesses

BENDIGO, VIC (16 January 2012) – CMather.com has been named one of Australia's 25 Most Popular Web hosting services by Web Host Directory for the third consecutive month. CMather notched one of the Top 25 spots monthly in October, November and December 2011. In addition, CMather.com was recognised for its outstanding cPanel hosting services.

"CMather.com has built its reputation on delivering the best quality Web hosting experience available," says Chris Mather, Project Manager at CMather.com. "Everything we do enhance the services we provide to our clients and enables them in turn to deliver outstanding Web experiences to their customers."

CMather.com offers a full range of Web support services to businesses of all sizes, both inside and outside of Australia. "cPanel has been a game-changer for Web services," says Mather. "It enables administrators to automate Web server functions and reduces the amount of time administrators need to spend performing routine administrative tasks."

Through its cPanel hosting services, CMather.com can offer highly efficient, reliable Web hosting and server administration services directly to its customers. Customers can manage their servers directly and quickly, using a simple Web interface. CMather cPanel hosting service can support dedicated servers that provide a high degree of security and control for businesses or virtual private servers that enable multiple businesses to run private servers on shared infrastructure. CMather.com cPanel services support the most popular server services, such as Apache, MySQL, PHP, Perl, Free Add-on Domains and email support for POP3, IMAP and SMTP services.

In addition to cPanel services, CMather.com also offers a wide range of domain name management services including domain registration. CMather.com offers free advanced

"Our goal is to offer our customers the best possible Web hosting experience available," says Mather. To accomplish that, we offer the Web support, development and hosting services businesses want and need. cPanel hosting is a way to enable businesses to manage their own services without the need for them to manage expensive IT infrastructure."

Mather says that Web services represent an opportunity for businesses today, but the required IT infrastructure often poses a serious risk to businesses. "Business websites need to be available 24 hours a day and IT services need to be flexible enough to respond instantly to the demands of the business. IT infrastructure needs to be managed and maintained in an environment that can address unexpected failures and loss of services, but most businesses can't provide the required reliability in their own data centres."

With cPanel hosting services, we provide the best of both environments. We offer highly flexible, responsive customer-managed services in a secure, reliable physical environment that is built to address circumstances that would otherwise leave organisations unable to provide critical business services.
